In a letter on the Sunday labour question there is no Custom House in Hongkong." which appeared in our columns a few days The history of legislation abundantly shows Douglas S. S. Co. Scottish Oriental S.S. Co. ago the Seamen's Chaplain said :- "The real that laws intended to be of only partial apcrux of the whole matter is the fact that plication are most difficult to enforce, and the Richmond Terrace Estate and Building Comlegislation in favour of those who are de- arc. in many cases, attended with mis-FOURTEEN THOUSAND AND SIX HUNDRED prived of their Sunday is at present practic- chievous results. In the present case it is 667 new shares of $100 each, to be offered at such ally unprecedented, except where those who desired to obtain for a thousand persons out terms as may be determined by the General order, the initials as well as the surnames are deprived of their seventh-day rest can of a population of two hundred thousand Manager to the sharpholders on the register on take the law into their own hands." What | cossation of labour on Sunday, but, as the this means we do not exactly know; if the Daily News says, summarising the Governor's real crux of the whole matter is indeed to be speech, while only a thousand people would found here it might be as well if the rev. be benefited by the change a hundred thougentleman would endeavour to make the sand would be affected by it. This promeaning a little clearer. We doubt, however, judging from the general tenour of his nor has it been pointed out by any of the Sabletter, whether he has in his own mind at all batarians by what means cessation of labour clearly defined the position he has taken up could be enforced except by fine and imon this subject, any more than have those prisonment. Sunday labour would, in short, who follow him... Their idea is simply that have to be constituted a crime, and if a "the cessation of Sunday labour is an in- crime in the case of one man a crime in the estimable boon," and they think when they case of every man. ask for this inestimable boon the Logislature ought to find some means of granting their request. The petitioners may, however A description of Chinese Festivals, Fasts, &c., fairly be called upon to state on what grounds they ask that the boon should be coured to them by legislation, whether on purely religious grounds or on grounds of expediency. If the former, then we claim, as the supporters of civil and religious liberty, that the state has no right to interfere, that it would be as unjust to forbid men to work when they felt inclined to do so as it would their religion teaches them to hold sacred. At present, in this colony, the Government does not interfere either to prevent men working or to compel them to work, but leaves every one free to do what he he killed in the open by a bullet in the eye .-may think right or most expedient under the circumstances in which he is placed. The circumstances of a certain number of men suployed on board ship require that they should work on Sunday, the owners not being willing, apparently, that their ships should remain idle on that day. If these men by means of a trade combination could secure for themselves consation of labour on Sunday they would be perfectly justified in doing so and we would be very glad to congratulate them on the result; but the Government cannot be called upon to interfere with the terms gone to take the mail of H. M. S. Orion. She of the contracts they make with their employers on the ground that they are contrary to religion, for the Government has no right to impose religious observances upon any one. If the cessation of Sunday official Member of the Legislative Council durlabour be urged on the ground of expediency, then we answer that the expediency can be best determined for themselves by each particular class of industries. Like the Rev. A. CURNEY GOLDSMITH, we with Col. North, the "Nitrate King," being regard the cessation of Sunday labour as an inestimable boon, but we cannot agree that we have any right to make the acceptance a number of Annamite women into this colony of that boon compulsory, especially when we know that only a small proportion of One of the men was discharged; the other four those affected would receive it as a boon. ment with hard labour.

The advocates of compulsory Sunday observance point to the Treaty Ports of China —where, owing to the closing of the on a charge of having shot several people in the Chinese womankind are not described at all indictable offence committed within the colony Custom House, there is some cessation of Siak. It is stated that the accused had acknow. or they are written of as conventional Asiatic and that the depositions in the case are to be labour on the first day of the week, though not to the extent that has been represented for a week, ball being allowed. -and they ask why Hongkong cannot do what the Treaty Ports of China can do. The answer is simple. Work on board ship at the Treaty Ports of China ceases on out the presence of Customs officers, on that day the Customs officers have holiday. No one disputes the right of the Government to give its servants reasonable holidays, but for the indirect consequences of published in our issue of the 26th January. The those holidays the Government is neither entitled to praise nor deserving of blame. The object of the Chinese Government is not board ship; indeed so far is this from being Honour Mr. Justice Fielding Clarke, LL.B. the case that they allow work to proceed on the necessary officers. Then, say the Sabbatarians, charge a fee in Hongkong. But in the Chinese ports the fee is charged for the the attendance of officers; in Hongkong the ground, and if levied at all must be by way of commutation for an offence. The Go- protested against its being held on Sunday. vernment would wirtually be saying, "It is wrong to break the Sabbath, but you may do

FINGLISH AND CHINES

WITH THE PUNTI AND MANDARIN PRONUNCIATION. Daily Press Office, Hongkong. For comprehensiveness and practical service this Work stands unrivalled. All the new words which the Chinese have of late years been jects in machinery, photography, telegraphy, for students of a most instructive nature. Both the Court and Punti pronunciations are given the accents being carefully marked on the best principle hitherto attained. The typography displays the success of an attempt to make the Chinese and English type correspond in the size of body, thereby effecting a vast economy of space, achieving a clearness not previously attained, and dispensing with those vast margins and vacant spaces which have heretofore characterized Chinese publications. To illustrate the vast scope of the work the Chinese characters, and Medhurst's English words, and upwards of 600,000 Chinese characters. Again, despite all the grammars and other elementary works as yet published, the student of this difficult language absolutely requires examples to display the various applications and equivalents of different words which have one general meaning. Of these examples on the 23rd May, and S. S. "PORT FAIRY," many as any other Dictionary hitherto pubby the regular Steamers of the Pacific Coast to communicate effectively with natives who understand nothing but Chinese. In this respect Through Passage Tickets granted to Eng. the work will be found indispensable to all Europeans residing in China, and to the natives themselves it explains subjects fully with which To parties resident in England and interested in China it cannot but be invaluable occasion-
